

Enrique Holmes, answering the call to ministry and the marketplace, emerged as a prophetic voice resonating locally and globally. Acknowledging his spiritual lineage under Apostle Travis and Pastor Stephanie Jennings of Harvest Tabernacle Church, Enrique embraces his commission as a prophetic voice for this generation. Enrique Holmes, happily married to his beloved wife Briona Holmes for one year, stands as a dynamic and transformative leader, weaving prophetic sounds of hope and encouragement into the fabric of worship and ministry.

A compelling and prolific preacher, Enrique possesses an intense desire to set the world ablaze for God. Evolving into an influential voice, he encourages believers nationwide with the powerful declaration that "absolutely nothing is too hard for God!" Through radical prophetic declarations and innovative worship, Enrique invites people of all ages to worship the Lord wholeheartedly.

Enrique's journey began at the age of three when he discovered his musical gift as a member of the children's choir in his childhood church. A defining moment at age seven, marked by the overpowering presence of God during his singing, became the catalyst for his passionate worship and complete life submission to Christ.

As a Davidic minstrel, Enrique possesses an attuned ear and heart for God, crafting a heavenly sound that leads the Body of Christ into God's presence. A gifted songwriter, his works feature prominently on various projects. Known for his prophetic expression, Enrique connects with the divine stream, riding the current of glory as he releases the song of the Lord.

In 2016, Enrique experienced a prophetic manifestation, recording his first Live Album, "Try Again Live." His debut single, "Miracle Worker," soared to #2 on the Billboard charts for Hot Single Sales and #20 for Hot Gospel Songs. His album, "Try Again Live," released on July 19, 2018, debuted at #3 on the Billboard Top Gospel Albums charts. The follow-up single, "Something Big," claimed a spot in the Top 20 on the Billboard Hot Gospel Songs Charts. Enrique's impactful contribution to "I Thank God" by Maverick City ascended to the top spot, reaching #1 and transcending linguistic boundaries with translations into various languages. Now, as an established Gospel artist, he is on the brink of unveiling his highly anticipated sophomore album, "You're Gonna See It," featuring top artist such as, Tasha Cobbs-Leonard, Naomi Raine, William Murphy, Kelontae Gavin, and many more... promising an uplifting and transformative musical experience.

As a leader surpassing his years, Enrique Holmes remains steadfast in fulfilling his purpose and serving as an example of sonship and God's transformative power to his generation. An Atlanta native and the youngest of three siblings, Enrique is committed to walking out his full purpose with passion and conviction.